

We're looking for a coach to add to our team!

Lakretz Creative Support Services is an innovative, dynamic professional development company that specializes in Inclusive Education since 1992. Our services include workshops and hands-on coaching to School Systems, Administrators and Teachers regarding topics such as co-teaching, differentiated instruction, community building, modifying curriculum for students with disabilities and ELLs and explicit instruction.

Who would you be working for and with??

Our mission is to support the inclusion of all people in schools and communities. We believe all people belong, and we are all best when we learn, play and work together. Our clients are mostly school districts.

Our values include diversity as a celebration and an asset, collaboration, honesty, integrity and seeing the giftedness in each being. We use vision-based planning and are committed to growth and differentiation. On our team, our humanness comes first. We are engaged in anti-racism work and welcome people from BIPOC, LGBTQ and any community that has not been afforded privilege.

We employ passionate, creative educators who are skilled at co-teaching and differentiating. LCSS coaches are creative problem solvers who look at students and schools in a holistic approach. We believe there is always a way to include and we provide and develop strategies to match that belief.

Positions are part time and your schedule will be flexible. NOTE: At the moment, we our clients are asking us for in person work on Long Island, NY. A portion of our work may take place virtually via Zoom.

Responsibilities:

- Deliver coaching and support consistent with and according to the LCSS framework, values, philosophy and training materials
- Visit classrooms in person or virtually.
- Provide feedback, facilitation, strategies, problem solving and support to school staff (teachers, paraprofessionals, service providers, etc.) during meetings with them.
- Create your schedule in conjunction with the client regarding the dates you will provide service. Work with the Principal or point person to support them to create your daily schedule. If working virtually, schedule Zoom meetings for each meeting and send the links to the principal and/or teachers.
- Meet with administrator(s) to discuss needs, goals, and objectives, and to provide them with feedback as appropriate.
- Meet with groups of teachers in order to study a strategy or groups of strategies, plan and problem solve.
- Email notes to the people you have met with and/or watched within a week of your visit. You will send your notes to a member of the LCSS team for review before sending them to the client, until the CEO deems it no longer necessary.
- Provide feedback to Beth Lakretz about the concerns of the client as well as your progress, success, challenges and concerns.
- Attend LCSS staff meetings
- Once familiar with all training materials, co-teach workshops.

Requirements:

- Dedicated belief and commitment to inclusion for all
- Energetic, innovative, flexible and self-directed people who are passionate about inclusion

- Outstanding collaborators
- Excellent interpersonal communication skills
- Minimum of 5 years hands-on teaching experience in co-taught classrooms or supporting ELL's in general education classrooms
- Skills to educate students with mild to severe disabilities and/or ELLs in general education classrooms
- Expertise in differentiated instruction
- Master's Degree
- Consulting experience a plus
- Interested in working throughout Long Island, NY

Please send us an email to info@lakretz.com describing why you'd be perfect for this position, along with your resume. We will review your answer and resume and be in touch if you meet all the requirements.
